

A Man.—A man of a very mixed character, was gotten up yesterday in the north part of the city, in the neighborhood of the canal, and which required the assistance of the officers of justice to unravel.

It appeared, as near as we could understand, that a specimen of humanity, whose name remains a myth, and whom the officers of justice identified under the very uncommon name of John Jones, called at the establishment of a German, named Feidler, and with a friend imbibed some of the ordain. Having some conscientious scruples in regard to drinking unlicensed whisky, John Jones demurred to see the authority under which Feidler refused peremptorily to comply, whereupon the indignant Jones expressed some vague threats of demolition or damage to the premises of the Tuscany dispenser of inebriating fluids, and left. Tuscany gentleman then pursued Jones, in order to prove the fear of injury to person and property under which he labored, when the somewhat obfuscatious sense of Jones magnified the form of terrified Tuscany into "eleven men in buckram." Jones inconvenienced, fled, and hid himself in a stable.

Feidler, surrounding the stable, stood guard over Jones until a friend should find an officer to arrest him. In the mean time a venerable man with a huge head, passing by, quietly invited Jones to leave his retreat and promenade with him to the halls of justice, with which request Jones chequilly complied. After reaching the office of Justice Smith, Jones waxed red, and very emphatically signified his ability to punch the heads of the entire German population of this city, and expressed a desire to enter upon the work at once, but was happily prevented by a few soothing remarks from Justice Smith.

After examining several witnesses on both sides, the Justice considered the case not strong enough against Jones to justify detention, he was therefore dismissed.

Cows and Cows.—Yesterday certain fast youths of the city indulged in a quiet game of cards at one of the legal institutions of our city. One of the number, imagining that he was being victimized, expressed his opinion freely on the character of his comrades, which not being sufficiently flattering to suit all present, one young man dissented from the opinion, when words were soon succeeded by blows, which latter were the hangings to a free flowing of claret and damaged physionomies. The individual who first allowed his angry passions to rise, then made complaint against the other before Justice Smith, who inviting the youth to his drawing room through his winged messenger, J. W. Dodson, upon his arrival, set his trial for to day.

Two other cases of assault and battery were docketed in Eq. Smith's office yesterday. The trials will probably take place to day.

CITY DIRECTOR.—G. W. Hawes, the well-known Director man, has two agents in this city for the purpose of canvassing the city, with a view to the compilation of a new Director. Mr. Hawes is so well known in the and adjoining states, in connection with this kind of business, that anything said in his favor on our part, would be superfluous. That the work will be well and correctly done, the name of G. W. Hawes alone is sufficient security. We hope no honest man or citizen will extend every facility to further the efforts of the compiler. These Directories are a necessity in every prosperous and well regulated city.

The man calling himself John Jones whom we mention in another place as being before Justice Smith, was sent to jail last night, to await investigation on a charge of throwing a sledge hammer at the head of a Irishman. He is supposed to be delirious. "Whiskey probably."

We learn that a house he had resolute, located in the north part of this city, was gashed out by the boys on Saturday night. They say they did the work througly.

They talk of extending their operations to others like claret. While we can't agree of this method of procedure, yet we think it highly essential to the well being of the city, that these pestiferous doss of infamy should be broken up by the city authorities.

Those who rent houses to such characters and for such purposes, should be attended to.

SURGEON DEATH.—Yesterday, John Herring ton a Tailor, of this city, was prostrated in the street by a Sun Stroke, and was carried into a shop where he died in a short time.

Persons cannot be too careful of themselves, when the Mercury stands at 98° in the shade.

We understand a woman living in the southern part of this city, also died yesterday from the same cause.

Borbohave's Holland Bitters.—The Press of the country has been particularly loud in the praise of the Bitters. Among the most notable, we offer the following to an impartial public:

A single firm in Massillon, Ohio, received an order from California for twenty thousand boxes, the aggregate price of which will equal $10,000.

A sponge saturated with water and kept in the hat, is said to be a perfect preventive against sun stroke. It is an easy remedy and should be tried by all those whose business compels them to stay for some time in the sun hot weather.

A correspondent of the Lafayette Journal, writing from Crawfordsville, in relation to the recent Commencement exercises of Wabash College, says:

The address before the two literary societies, by Rev. Mr. Wilson, of Terre Haute, in the evening, was an unusually instructive production. The unity of the human race, with a host of terrible diseases, to be cured, will vanish like snow before a streaking sun.

Dr. J. Daspone's Golden Periodical Pills, for Females.—A new and complete assortment of medicines, and those well selected, can usually be cured by taking moderate doses, wholesome food, and a dose of Borbohave's Holland Bitters one hour before each meal. "B. B. S."

Borbohave's Holland Bitters for Dyspepsia, Headache, Loss of Appetite, Nervous Debility, and all diseases consequent upon a deranged stomach and liver. This article is very favorably known throughout the West, and is regularly prescribed by some of the most distinguished physicians. "P. L. Lester."

Dyspepsia, Headache and Indigestion, by which all persons are more or less affected, can usually be cured by taking moderate doses, wholesome food, and a dose of Borbohave's Holland Bitters one hour before each meal. "B. B. S."

If a young lady "thinks her way,"—unfortunate, that she has married for love, that she is "comfortably settled,"—unfortunate, that she married a wealthy old man whom she hates.

NEWS ITEMS.

The most novel as well as the most interesting of all the racing matches which have been proposed in some years past, is one lately started in New York, being a proposed four mile up a three mile heat, the long distance to be performed by a thoroughbred first class race horse, while the three miles are to be performed by the trotter. The first class horses, such as Princess, Flora Temple, Ethan Allen, Tar River, etc., are those for which such a match is talked of.

They are building a large and handsome Opera House in New Orleans—Italian architecture, eighty feet high. The building projects over the sidewalk, in the French style, and the external walls rest upon pillars at the curbside in front, besides which a gallery, six feet wide and sixty feet long, projects from this arcade over the street as a protection to ladies entering and leaving carriages in bad weather. The auditorium is elliptical in shape, and fully so large as that of the Tacon at Hasbulla. There are five latticed boxes on each side of the proscenium, and boxes or bay windows all around it, and four tiers of boxes.

On Friday last, over at Taylorsville, Spencer Co., Ky., Mr. George Brown entered a barbershop and being considerably fatigued, laid down upon a lounge to refresh himself with a nap. The accommodating barber, thinking him a good subject for examination, proceeded to feel through his pockets. The result was, he found $200 in money and $1,000 in checks, and broke like a quarter horse for Louisville. He was followed there, arrested, and only $50 of the money recovered.

A MODERN GUY FAWKES.—The Vickburg Whig learns that some scoundrel paged a box of powder under the Court House of Clayborne County, Miss., a few days ago, set fire to it, and blew the Court House to atoms. Half the building was blown down.

The Sheriff's office adjoining, was destroyed, and his vault, containing about ten thousand dollars, robbed. About a hundred dollars were picked up in the streets, evidently blown by the explosion. No clue to the perpetrator.

EXPOSURE TO THE SUN.—These piping hot days should make every one careful of exposing himself to the sun. We see already accounts of death from sun stroke. Laborers, who are exposed by their business to the sun's rays, can find a good protection in keeping a handkerchief between their head and the crown of their hat. If the handkerchief is wet, go with the better protect o for the head.

NO SAYING.—Last week a hard working tailor returned to this city after a five months absence, having been compelled to leave our country with his wife and two children when he went away. He left a wife and two children when he went away, and the first thing on his arrival was to seek out his family. He found them as the Third Ward, and after kissing his wife, he then looked about at his babies. Then at his wife, he then looked about him. Back and forth, from one to the other, for full five minutes he gazed, and then broke out: "Well, Mary, for a small amount you raised—Lamontage."

A DIVIDEND NOTICE.—Bank of Indiana, Terre Haute, Ind.: Strickland & McKinney, Bankers, inform their depositors that the bank, which has been in operation since 1854, and its great success, is in the result of the energy, the integrity, and the liberality that have characterized his course from that day to the present.

In addition to the above just tribute to the merits of Mr. Evans, and the unequalled success of his popular enterprise, we take great pleasure in announcing that the Bank of Indiana, which has ever characterized his mild and upright business transactions, established for himself and his house a name above suspicion or reproach, and a fame which must endear his possession to fortune and renown."—That is no plauditory effort on our part, but a full and unfeigned expression of our admiration in the plain recital of self-sufficient facts, read and known to all of us.

Mr. Evans, of the Bank of Indiana, operations are extensively known. We have dealt with Mr. Evans for years, personally, and conversed with scores of others who have sent him in money and orders, and received Books and valuable Gifts in return; and its certainly a higher merit of praise than usually falls to the ordinary lot of man to be truly faithful, than that in no single instance have we heard from the first word of dissatisfaction.

This assortment of Books embraces the standard works of the languages, and every department of American literature, and through every part of the country, spread through every part of the country, to the great advantage of the rising generation; and in this respect, he may very promptly be held to a public benefactor.
